| Part Number                | IS31LT3171-STLS4-TR                            |
| Manufacturer               | ISSI (Integrated Silicon Solution, Inc.)       |
| Description                | IC LED DRVR LINEAR 150MA SOT23-6               |
| Category                   | Integrated Circuits (ICs) > PMIC - LED Drivers |
| Part Status                | 5307 pcs Stock                                 |
| Voltage - Supply (Min)     | 2.5V                                           |
| Voltage - Supply (Max)     | 5.5V                                           |
| Voltage - Output           | 42V                                            |
| Type                       | Linear                                         |
| Topology                   | -                                              |
| Supplier Device Package    | SOT-23-6                                       |
| Series                     | -                                              |
| Packaging                  | Tape & Reel (TR)                               |
| Package / Case             | SOT-23-6                                       |
| Operating Temperature      | -40°C ~ 125°C (TA)                             |
| Number of Outputs          | 1                                              |
| Mounting Type              | Surface Mount                                  |
| Internal Switch(s)         | Yes                                            |
| Frequency                  | -                                              |
| Dimming                    | PWM                                            |
| Current - Output / Channel | 150mA                                          |
| Applications               | Lighting                                       |
